

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Disciple of Jesus Christ

- Team Name: Ask us later
- Team member's Names: Jacob South, Anna Roscher, Steven Sellers
- Project Title: Personal Commitment to the Lord
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	○Consciousness	○Conduct
Group	○Connectedness	○Interaction
Community	○Representation	○Cooperation

Explain: When we are more committed to the Lord, and make Him a priority in our lives, He will help us in every aspect of our lives so long as we are making a diligent effort.

- Project Values: Intentional and deliberate commitment
 - Description: Goal setting to become better Disciples of Christ
 - Vision Statement: We believe commitment to Christ is our number one priority as students, friends, children, and parents.
 - SMART Goal:
 - Specific: Read, ponder, and pray about what parts of our lives need to be more Christ-Centered
 - Measurable: Decide on an action, keep a daily record if that action was met or not.
 - Attainable: Keep each other accountable as we meet for class and team projects.
 - Relevant: Making personal goals to come closer to Jesus makes us better disciples.
 - Timely: For the duration of the semester
- Summary: Each team member will come up with a personal SMART goal that will help them learn to be better disciples of Jesus Christ, while holding one another accountable to their goals.

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How): Personal/ Kept within the team

- Roles and Responsibilities:

Role

Responsibilities

- 1: Discussion Leader and upkeep of those goals
 - 2: Participant
- Leads/starts the discussion of the goals we have made,
come prepared and ready to discuss

- Milestones

- 1. Meeting a goal earlier than planned
- 2. Half way through allotted time frame.

- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

- _____
- _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Sound Thinkers

- Team Name: Ask us later
- Team member's Names: Jacob South, Anna Roscher, Steven Sellers
- Project Title: Sound leaders make sound thinkers
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	○Consciousness	○Conduct
Group	○Connectedness	○Interaction
Community	○Representation	○Cooperation

Explain: Becoming sound thinkers effects a good portion of how we work in a team, however sound thinking doesn always translate into effective communication.

- Project Values: Team growth
- Description: The team improves through activities done together, where we can learn from several different sources, including each other.
- Vision Statement: We believe that by attending strengthening seminars and conferences with a purpose, we can become sound thinkers in any situation.
- SMART Goal:
 - Specific: Attend a career fair as a group, at the same time
 - Measurable: Application: how well have we applied what we learned together in the career fairs to our daily lives?
 - Attainable: Attend 1 or more career fairs
 - Relevant: Learning from others is essential to becoming sound thinkers
 - Timely: By the end of the semester (or this project)

Summary: As a group: plan and attend career fairs and other student service activities to gain a broader understanding of the working of the work place and other life skills.

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How): Team specific, involves outside help
- Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
○ 1: Planner everyone/organizes a meeting place	Finds a time to attend the career fair that works for
○ 2: participant materials, ready to learn	arrives to the planned time with the required
- Milestones
 - 1. After an activity
 - 2. Half way through the project
 - 3. End of the project

- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:

- _____
- _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Effective Communicator

- Team Name: Ask us later
- Team member's Names: Jacob South, Anna Roscher, Steven Sellers
- Project Title: Presentations
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	○Consciousness	○Conduct
Group	○Connectedness	○Interaction
Community	○Representation	○Cooperation

Explain: Communication is a constant in our lives, especially with other people. however we also communicate with ourselves, self talk plays a part in how we see ourselves and there for interact with others.

- Project Values: Communication confidence
- Description: weekly presentations to the group
- Vision Statement: Being confident in presentations helps one be confident in
- SMART Goal:
 - Specific: Team members will present one thing they learn from class
 - Measurable: Every team member will present at the end of each week
 - Attainable: Once every week, small 1 minute presentations
 - Relevant: Presenting to the group makes it easier to then communicate openly with the group
 - Timely: end of semester

Summary: Group members will make presentations weekly to strengthen their communication skills

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How): Present to other group member
- Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
○ 1: Presenter and present to teammates	prepare one minute presentation on what was learned
- Milestones
 - 1. End of weekly presentations
 - 2. Half way point
 - 3. end of project
- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:
 - _____
 - _____

[] Approved Date: _____

Acorn Project Worksheet

Project Mission Focus: Skill Collaborators

- Team Name: Ask us later
- Team member's Names: Jacob South, Anna Roscher, Steven Sellers
- Project Title: Group Program
- Project Influences:

	Belief	Actions
Self	○Consciousness	○Conduct
Group	○Connectedness	○Interaction
Community	○Representation	○Cooperation

Explain: Collaboration starts with the individual and then based on what we as individuals do, it spreads to others.

- Project Values: Effective working through communication
- Description: Design a program as a team
- Vision Statement: We believe that if we communicate effectively and use all the other skills we've developed, we will be able to create a program as a team
- SMART Goal:
 - Specific: Develop a Book of Mormon program using GitHub
 - Measurable: The program functions the way it's ment to including function and appearance
 - Attainable: set coding milestones as a group
 - Relevant: completing a program shows our ability to effectively collaborate
 - Timely: End of class

Summary:

- Audience (Who, What, Where, When, Why, How):
- Roles and Responsibilities:

Role	Responsibilities
○ 1: Project manager is being worked on/next steps	organizes the different part of code and manages what
○ 2: Developers appropriately.	fix bugs within the code and makes sure things run
- Milestones
 - 1. Wireframe completed
 - 2. half way
 - 3. completed
- Instructor Improvements Suggestions:
 - _____
 - _____

[] Approved Date: _____